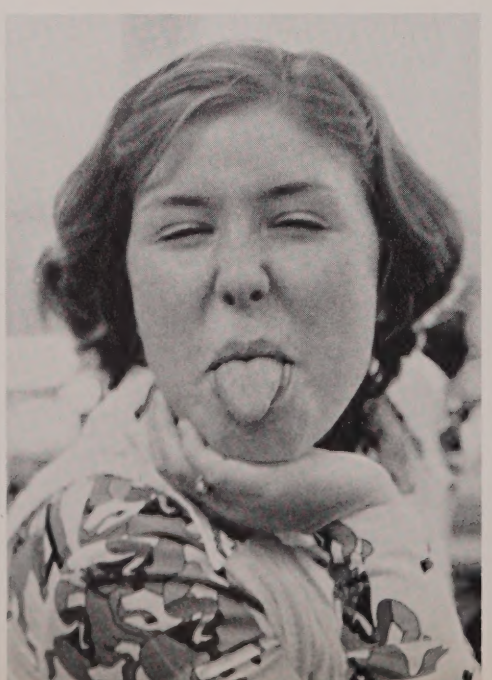
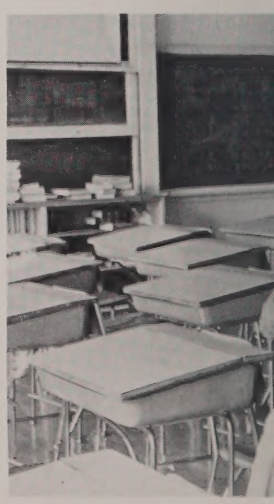
WALPOLE HIGH SCHOOL

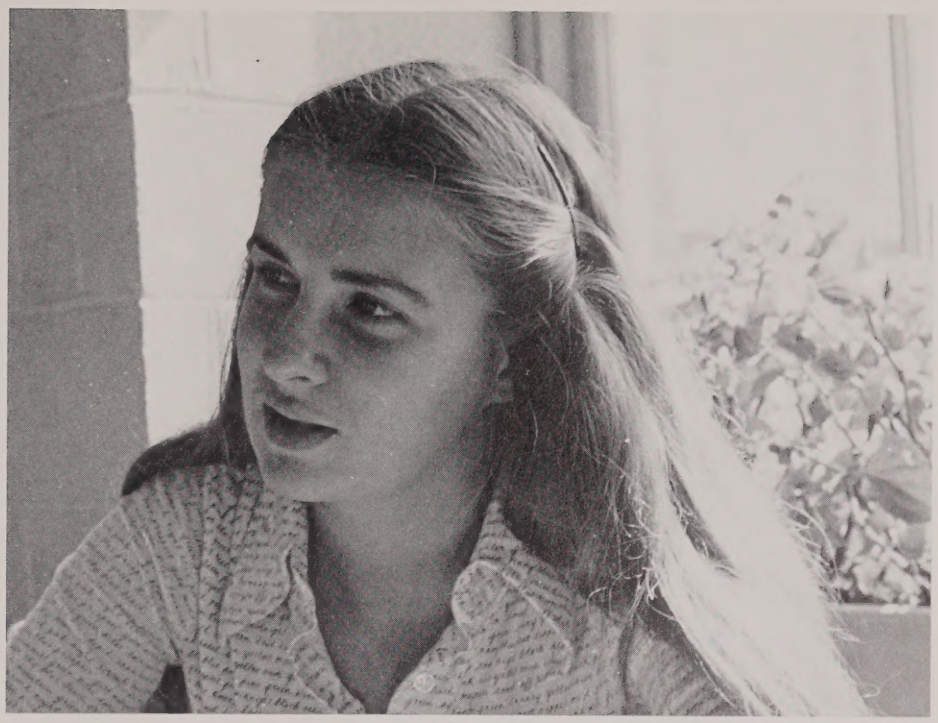
- REVOLT -

REBEL

1776-1976







200 years ago our forefathers (and foremothers) fought, openly and secretly against what they felt was tyranny and injustice. This year, our own teachers felt somewhat the same way, and staged a quiet, Work-to-Rule protest. As our ancestors' dream came true, so did the teachers'. This year was a banner for the graduating class. This year we celebrate our nation's 200th birthday, the 12th Olympiad, and many of us will be voting in the presidential election. We leave Walpole High with mixed feelings, ranging from sheer ecstasy to a quiet longing to be able to stay the same. But whatever our feelings, we are unleashed upon the world as adult members of our society, hopefully prepared to improve the world in which we live, to keep up the dream our ancestors started.

Year of Change

Administrators Harry Graff and Elmer Snell.

Mrs. Mary Ann Boragine, Mrs. Marjorie Stuber, Mrs. Shirley Crown

The "Work to Rule" status was the important situation from October 7 until the Town Meeting on November 24, where it was voted to fully fund the teachers' 74-75 and 75-76 withheld contracts. The teachers voted to resume all extracurricular activities the next night.

All the activities voted to a standstill on October 7 then resumed their normal routine.

Other than the "Work to Rule" program, the year has been a peaceful one.

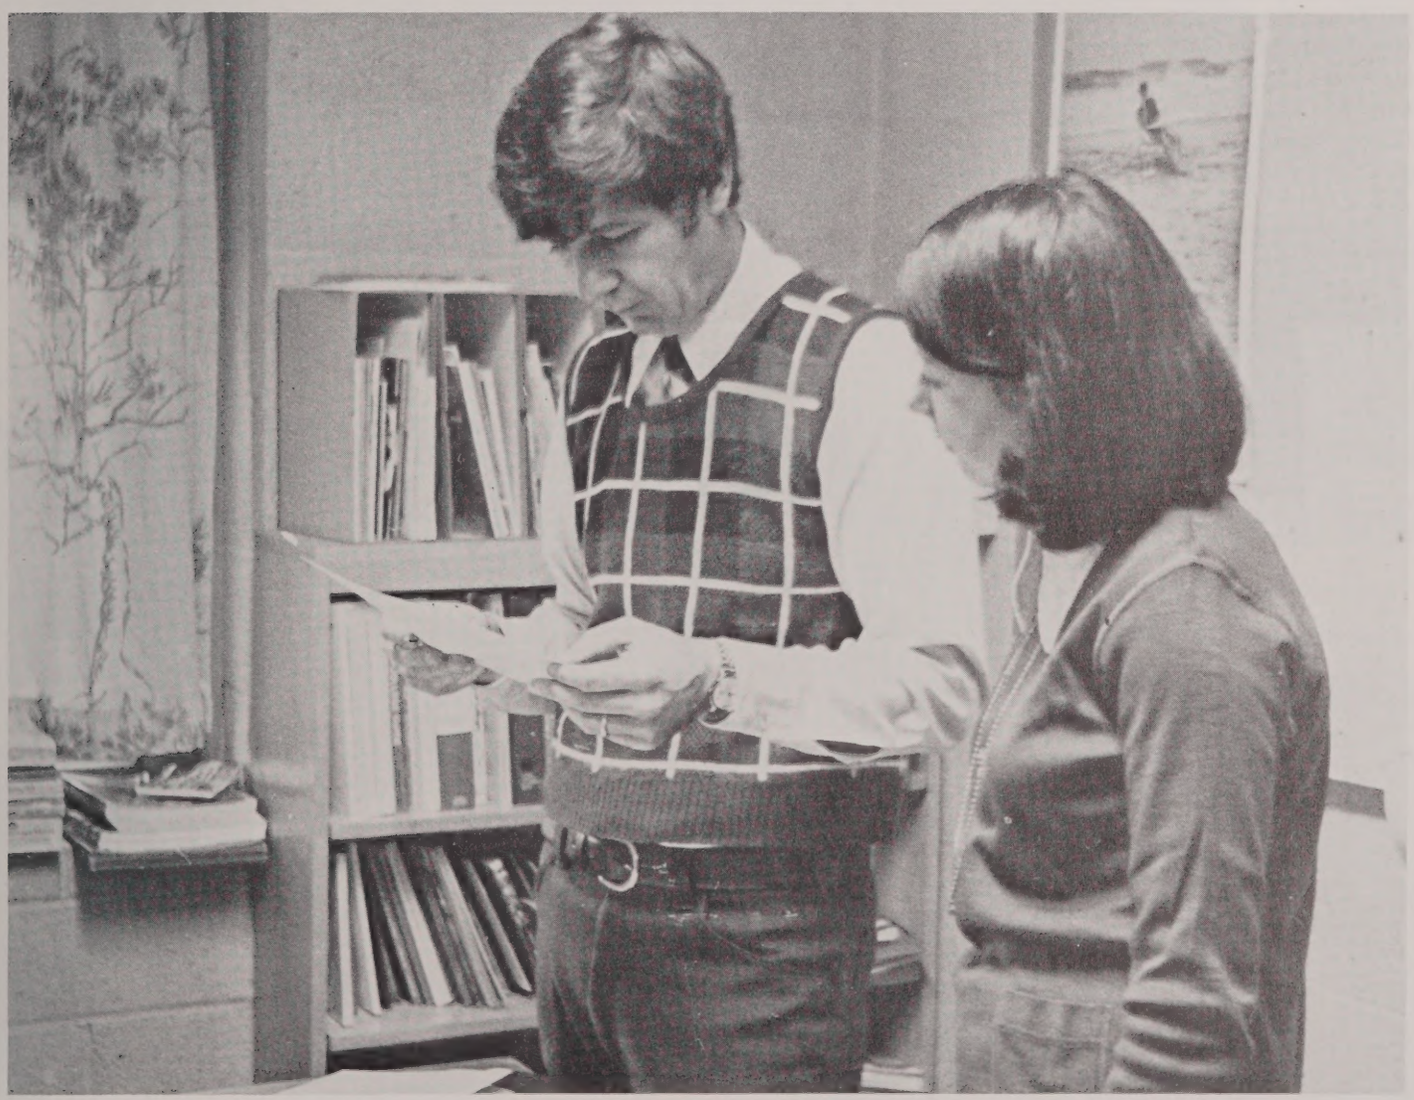
Arena Scheduling: Three Ring Circus

The Guidance Department had a different start this year with arena scheduling a few days before school opened. The pressure was on; they had to fit all 1,130 seniors, juniors, and sophomores into classes for the first day. Though they did succeed in getting the majority done, scheduling and scheduling changes went on into weeks of the first term.

Nothing held them back from giving their usual battery of tests with PSAT's, SAT's, Achievements, State Tests, Vocational Tests (SVAV, ASVAB) - the list goes on and on.

The primary function was to make students aware of the schools available to them for further education. They were also reminded of the requirements and qualifications needed by the students. To aid the representatives from various schools came to WHS.



Conjugation Continues

The English Department

The English Department continues to conjugate in the time-honored tradition of W.H.S. The ivy has grown thick on that corner of the old wing (excellent for holding the building together). Mr. Arthur Hull still roams the hallowed halls with his lamp of learning aloft, searching for that other copy of "Beowulf Critical Essays." In the somber atmosphere of predicates and Milton, the funniest thing about the Department is that it exists in an institution where standard English has not been spoken in recorded history. However, there may be some factual basis for the legend of the student who once answered, "It is I."

Math Grows, Results Show

This was the year of expansion for the Math Department. The new courses Calculators, History of Math, and Transformation of Geometry brought a ten-thousand-dollar grant to Walpole High. The grant purchased several small calculators and a programmable calculator used frequently in General Math I and the Calculator course.

Another new technique used in the math classes was team teaching. Mr. Cobb and Ms. West team taught Algebra/Geometry II and found the courses interesting. Mrs. Lind (the Math Chairperson) and Mr. Cobb team taught General Math I.

Social Studies Marches

Mr. Robert Coviello, Department Head

The Social Studies classes have moved to an interdisciplinary teaching, reinforcing English and Social Studies. Many planned activities were ventured. The Bicentennial course taught by Mr. Thomas Morris had a lunch, with Mrs. Coviello assisting in the bicentennial cooking. The event on January 6 was a great success.

In the spring some classes had a Presidential primary, and others took a trip to Boston with Mrs. Watters to observe our State and local government at work.

Many speakers attended Walpole High to help students visualize the lifestyles and cultures of other peoples. Among the guest speakers this year were Baron von Mueller, a German (Mrs. Watters' husband) visiting the Political Science course, Peter Betro, a local proprietor who discussed the impact of private business, and Shozo Tanaguchi, a teacher from Japan.

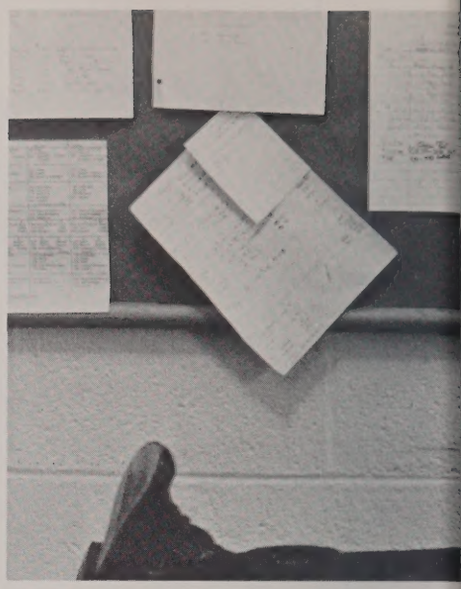
A Tower of Babel . . .



Language Department

The Tower of Babel rests on its firm foundation of Latin as taught by Mrs. Penelope Calf, which may explain the togas drying in the basement. German students will testify to the gutteral groans of Herr Walter "Um Gottas willen" Stoltze, standing guard on the first floor when he isn't in the cafe. Another flight up, the French Embassy is ruled jointly by Misses Charlotte Cole and Floy Miller, aided by the infamous Arsène Lupin and Paul Martin. The top floors are occupied by the Spanish teachers: Mr. George Watson, who constantly disturbs the other tenants by practicing his flamenco dancing during tests; and Mr. Malcolm McGregor. There is an unverified story that Mr. McGregor used an alcoholic beverage to lure a large black bull up to the penthouse roost of Mr. Peter Paglari, department chairman, who reportedly screamed "Olé!" out the window, instead of "Help!"

The Miracle of Science . . .

The Science Department managed to avoid any major catastrophes for yet another year, although the test tubes boiled and the chemicals bubbled day-in and day-out, while all the amateur scientists at Walpole High School muddled their way through page after page of their half destroyed lab manuals.

Emerging from this mass of aspiring physicists, chemists, and biologists was Cheryl Parente, winner of the Bausch and Lomb Science Award, which is awarded annually to the senior with the highest scholastic standing in science subjects.

The Science Department curriculum encourages student discovery of basic scientific principles through experimentation, which is then followed up with more in-depth information from the text books.

The Wakeford team, which consists of Mrs. Mary Wakeford and Mr. Larry Wakeford, took turns at the nearly impossible task of putting information inside Walpole High School's student's heads, with Mrs. Wakeford teaching for the first half of the year, and Mr. Wakeford taking over for the second semester.

Business is Booming

It was a busy year for the Business Department with the full scale opening of the school store, "The Down Under."

The Cooperative Office Experience Program continues to thrive, providing many students with valuable office experience in offices of nearby firms. Approximately thirty-five students participated in the Program.

The Accounting Program continues to be a very popular selection with many students who plan to further their knowledge in the accounting field after they leave Walpole High School.

The basic goal of the Business Department is to establish a Word Processing Lab, which would include a Machine Transcription Program.

As the old saying goes, "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again." That's what Walpole High School has been doing: trying to find a teacher who will stay at the WHS print shop. This year, it's a man named Mr. Robert Campbell, a man who knows his job and likes it. Instead of having the usual projects, the kids have their hands full just trying to keep up with the school's printing needs, such as detention pads, attendance sheets, and many other student forms.

Shops Cover a Variety of Skills

The woodshops and metal shops both had a great year. Mr. Morrini's Woodworking II and III classes made several elaborate pieces of furniture: grandmothers clocks, tables, dry sinks, and evan a Swampscott dinghy.

Mr. Gable's classes mass-produced wine racks, sports plaques, chopping blocks, and corner shelves.

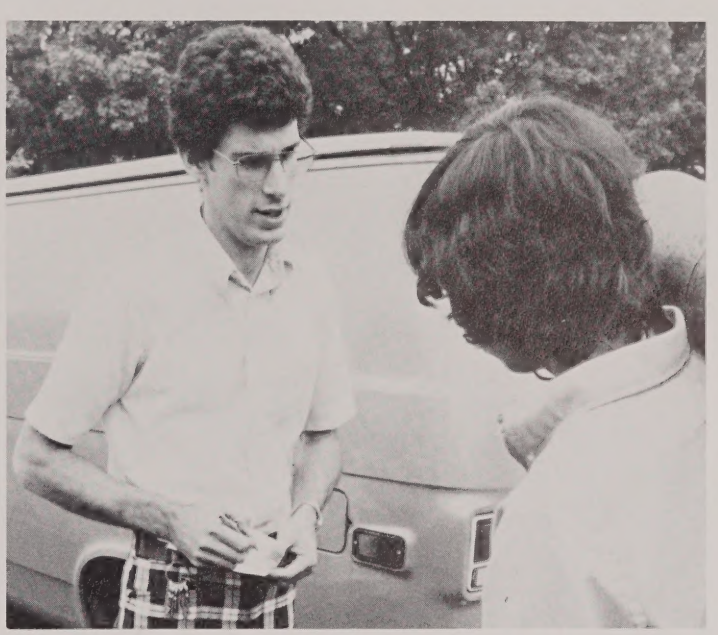
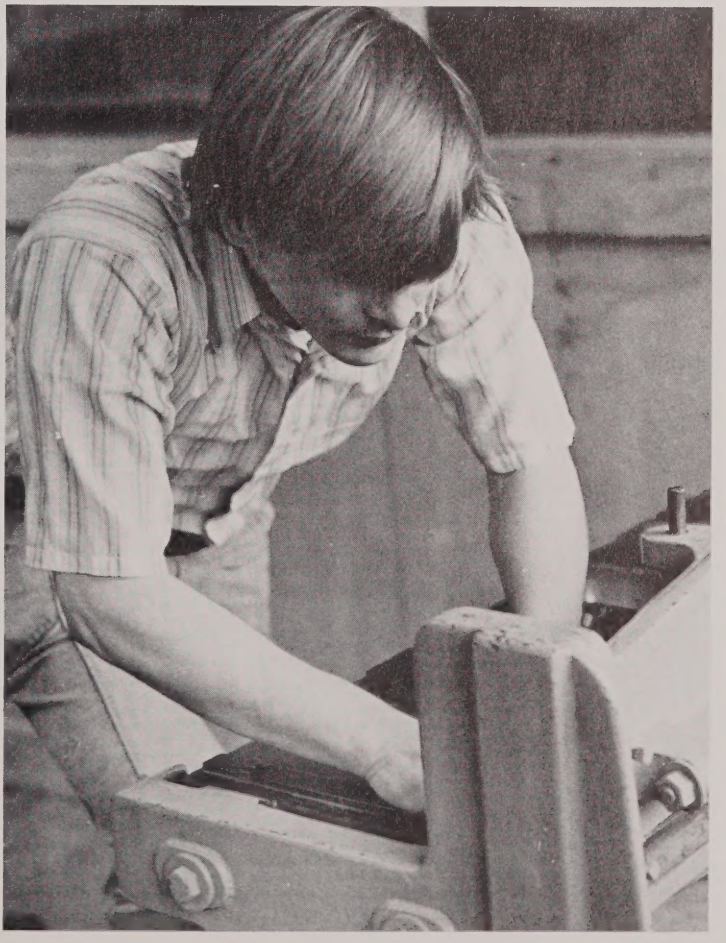
The metal shop, under the direction of Mr. Casbarra, produced flower pot hangers, lanterns, car ramps, jack stands, and hurricane lamps. Down in the bomb shelter Mr. Casbarra also conducted the Power Mechanics course. The course this year was a half year, but next year will be a full year course. The course deals mainly with power theory, and the students are working on small 2 and 4 stroke internal combustion engines.





Arts and Crafts

Walpole's Art Department has come a long way these past few years. No longer a subject to be taken only for credits, Art is now a serious field of study such as English, Math, or History.

Headed by Alfred Lazzeri, the department hosts a variety of teachers and programs which focus on the student's individual needs and abilities, giving them skills which will last a lifetime.

Ms. Debra Filiurin instructs the Art Major program. Mrs. Peggy Eyth teaches ceramics and Mr. Robert Gardner concentrates on crafts and jewelry.

Music-Makers Experience Very Full Year

The Walpole High School Marching and Concert Band has once again experienced a very full year. An added attraction to the Marching Band this year was a full and talented color guard, under the drill instruction of Mr. Norman Desprez.

The highlights of the year for the Concert Band and Stage Band were a trip to Glen Burnie, Maryland. Fund-raising activities for this trip ranged from the selling of records, to a giant yard sale, and door-to-door car washes. The band also spent a day touring Washington, D.C. during its weekend.

Several new and old ensemble groups were brought together this year. The Stage Band was back with almost all new members as well as a Dixieland band and flute choir.

A course in Music History was again offered. It was climaxed with the study of electronic techniques. The newly acquired synthesizer (electronical musical instrument) was utilized.

Year of Change for Chorus

The year of 1975-1976 was a year of change for the Walpole High School Chorus. A new choral conductor, Ms. Gail Berman, came to Walpole with a lively personality and a great interest in music. She brought many innovative ideas to Walpole High School. Accompaniment for chorus ranged from the use of an organ to the use of a synthesizer.

The Chorus and Madrigal Singers have had many performances including singing at the Walpole Mall and giving clinics in the junior highs and grade schools.

Phys. Ed. Goes Coed.

This year Mr. Burke and Miss Brainard set up a co-ed gym program. This course gave both girls and boys a chance to work together as a team and compete against each other as rivals. Though the boys felt somewhat restricted because of the rules limiting them while competing against the girls in volleyball, things went generally smooth. Time will tell just how successful a program like this will be in attempting to equalize the sexes in sports.

Looks good to me

Home Economics, in Walpole High, is a program with a wide variety of interests. Our department is concerned with the development of teenagers as they grow into adults, with interpersonal relationships, with the development of skills each person requires to maintain himself, with the knowledge required to manage one's time, energy and money, and with the development and care of children.

Home Economics is a people centered department for both boys and girls. Our goal is to help any interested student function better as an individual, as a family member, or as a member of a group outside the family.

Some Special People at Walpole High Who Keep Things Moving

Here are some of the specialists at Walpole who are skilled in teaching everything from splints to splices, from bandaids to blowout patches. The variety of services offered by these individuals provides the student with the driving urge to cultivate a healthy attitude toward the self-motivated, well-read scholar. (P.S. We hope you recognize the imbalance of male/female ratio on these pages. The changing times have done a job on the male ego.)

Special Services

Walpole High School's Special Services Dept. was quite successful in its first year. It helped about 10% of the student population retrain their language skills. Mrs. Cunningham, Mr. Lind, Mr. DeCarnys, Miss Ahmann and Mrs. Stone used a great deal of audio visual equipment to give the student individualized help, and had great success in making the students comfortable in the classes.

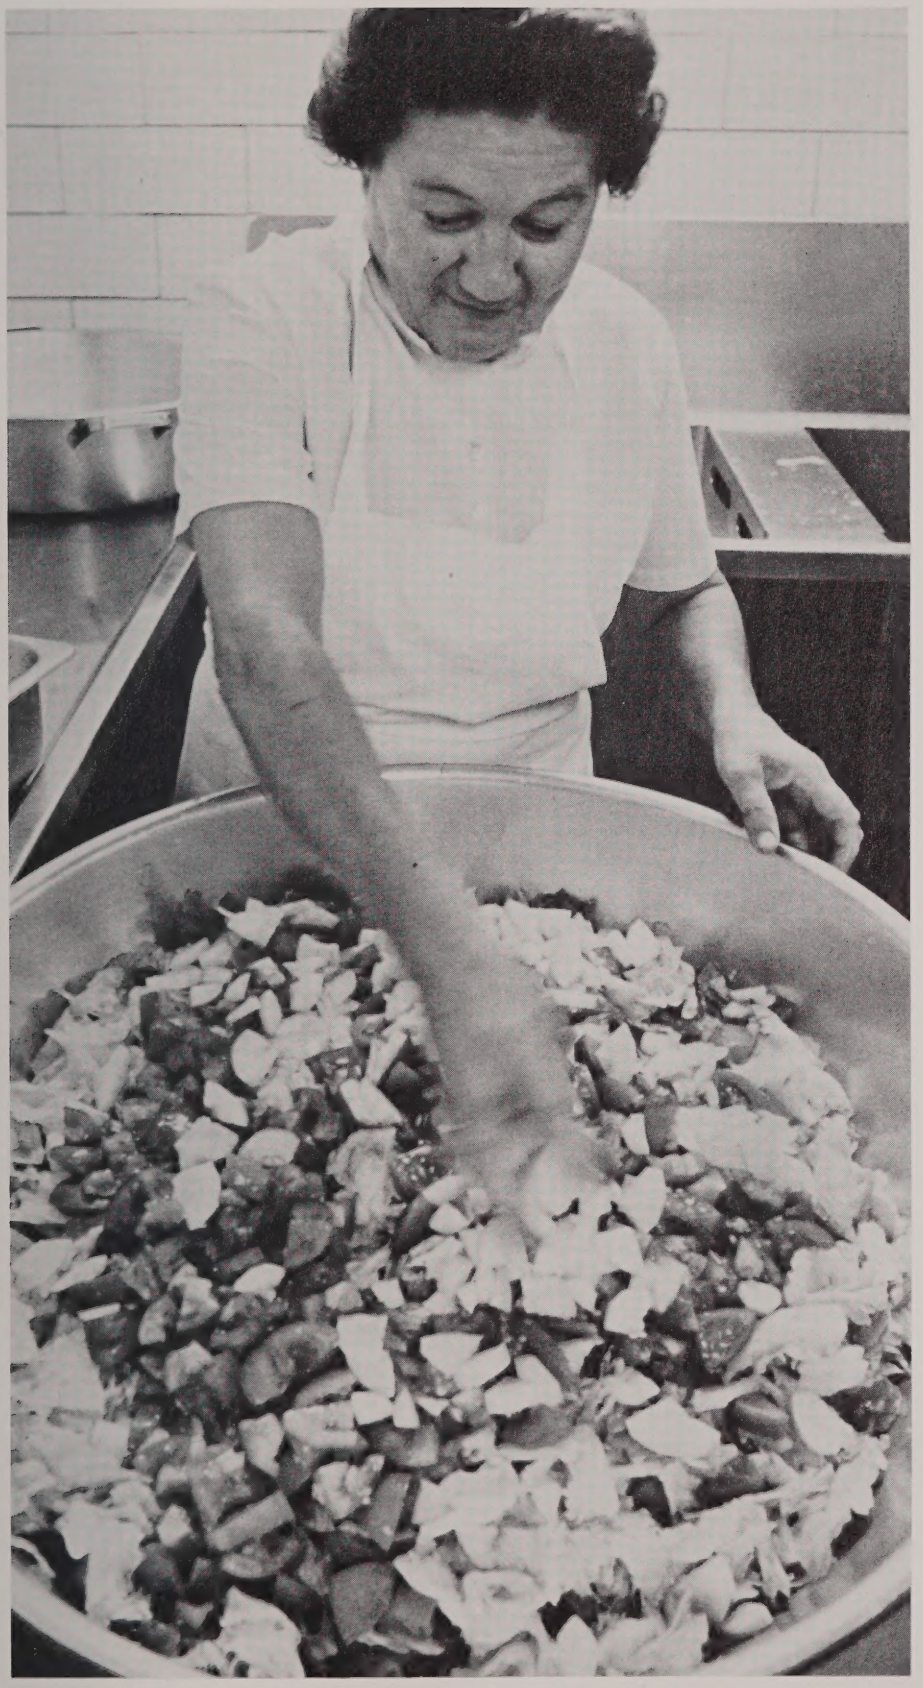
The Unsung Heroes of Walpole High



Mrs. Nicolette Baltodonis

The unsung heroes of Walpole High are always busily carrying out their routine jobs. The cafeteria women are on the job every school day, cooking, serving meals, cleaning up, and working as cashiers.

An adequate amount of work is maintained in order to keep the custodians occupied. Mr. Bullard is often seen maneuvering around the parking lot picking up scattered trash. He also shows great kindness by holding open the back door while students are trampling in and out of the building in between classes. Duke is frequently taking students out of detention in order to help him with some small chores.

Besides sponsoring the annual Autumn Queen Dance, the Student Council was active in a variety of legislative action. They presented a rebuttal to the Advisory Committee's proposal to move the smoking area to the front of the school. They also had some input concerning the content of the Student Handbook. Their constitution was revised. Members helped serve refreshments on Ride-a-Bike day. They also held a bake sale and a car wash for scholarship money.

STUDENT ADVISORY COMMITTEE TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Under the guidance of Superintendent John MacDonald, the SAC actively served the interests of the student body. Members Nancy Smeltzer, Jane Alexander, Pam Riley, Charles Rozanski, and John Moloney spent the year co-authoring a definitive class dues policy and composing a comprehensive athletic survey.

Changes In Loon

Because of a student lack of interest there was no fall Loon, only winter and spring.

Many changes took place this year. Loon was cut to just a wilderness trip which is minus the two weeks of training beforehand. Also, Winter Loon went on three weekend trips instead of a week-long trip. Walker Ravine, the Willey Slides, and Mount Washington are the major places Loon climbed.

The cliffs near Baillarge Bay were some of the most beautiful seen on the trip.

The Club managed to climb out of the hole the second half of the year and went on backpacking, canoeing, and rock climbing trips to end the year on a high note.

All the News Fit to Print?

The "Rebellion", the school newspaper and the "Rebel", the school yearbook, have been worked on intermittently by Mr. Schnorbus' Journalism II classes. There were approximately 6 photographers, in and out of the journalism classes, who took most, if not all, of the candids. They also processed them in our own dark room.

Staffs had trouble keeping out of each other's way but eventually they completed the two prize-winning publications. The price of the newspaper went up to 15¢ and the yearbook remained at $12.00 by vote of the senior class.

Photography Club Gets Negative Reviews

The Photography Club was bombarded with all kinds of assignments this year from clubs and groups to a smattering of senior portraits. It proved too much for the regulars who had to be threatened with "poor work slips" before they would produce. As a result, wrestling photos were a flop as well as girls' and boys' basketball candids.

Despite the bummers, Nancy Fogarty managed to take a "blue ribbon" in the Scholastic Arts Awards Contest.

More students each year seek acceptance for placement on the Co-operative Office Experience program. Any student who has taken some business courses may apply, and those selected are chosen on the basis of their skills, attendance, and attitude.

Released from school around noon time, the students report to work at 12:30 pm or 1 pm. The office tasks performed are usually filing, typing, general clerical, or stenographic work, and the compensation is based on the skill required.

Upon completion of their senior year many students opt to continue on full time with their co-operative employer while others continue on with their education in college or business school.

On Tuesday, May 4, at 7:30 p.m., in the Walpole High School Auditorium, thirty-one juniors were inducted into the Walpole Chapter of the National Honor Society.

Mr. Snell, Pete Knobel, president of the NHS, and other NHS members gave speeches on the qualities and responsibilities of every NHS member during the traditional candlelight ceremony, which ran until 8:00 p.m. Later, each of the new members was called to the stage and given a lit candle, symbolic of the replacement of the 1975-76 members with the new members of the society as the guardians of knowledge.

The ceremony was attended by the parents and relatives of the new society members as well as several students and faculty members. Refreshments were served in the school cafeteria after the ceremony. The following students were inducted into the society: Elizabeth Beise, Tom Casey, Lauren Cercone, David Clark, Nancy Cobb, Eleanor Cole, Kathy Conroy, Chris Crehan, Lisa Davis, Patricia Dumphey, Paula Driscoll, Kevin Fay, Eva Galezewski, Joel Garcia, Cheryl Gay, Linda Gilbert, Sandra Grillo, Carolyn Johnson, Susan Johnson, John Klobucher, Lisa Koffinke, Mark Lamothe, Dan Leeco, David Matsumuro, Kathy McQueeney, Robert Noren, David Pignatelli, Robert Powers, Paul Roebber, Charles Ross, and Patricia Tarpey.

WWWA SPREADS ITS WINGS

Walpole High's FM radio station, WWWA, finally got off the ground and "On the air" after a delay of nearly two years. The station, plagued with a faulty antenna and deserting faculty advisors, finally began broadcasting on a regular basis in mid-December. Perhaps the station's most innovative idea and subsequently most successful project was the airing of the 1976 Walpole Annual Town Meeting. WWWA also featured "Friday Night 'Live'" and "In music." WWWA is located at 91.5 FM.

FUTURE NURSES

The monthly meetings of the Future Nurse Club consisted of speakers covering various subjects such as financial aid for nursing students, the duties of an office nurse, and the course of study offered in a three-year program. In addition, a practice blood pressure session was held and lists of medical abbreviations were distributed.

Field trips were taken to Newton-Wellesley Hospital and to Mass. General Hospital for its bicentennial tour. For the first time, some club members assisted the school nurse at kindergarten registration.

It is hoped that this program will continue to encourage more student participation.

CHESS TEAM

The Walpole High Chess Team finished with a 2-6 over-all league record losing its 6 matches to Brockton, Sharon, and Randolph. Their two wins were against Stoughton.

Individual members of the team competed in the Bay-State League at Braintree where Terry Jones and Jon O'Gorman finished 2-3 records. Sophomores Greg Turnquist and Paul Kiesling both tied for second place in the unrated division of the M.I.T. Invitational Chess Tournament.

The team finished 5th overall in the Baystate Team Championships held at Norwood High School.

Mr. Coviello is very optimistic for the next two seasons as he has the entire chess team returning and he will only lose two seniors at the end of the 77 season.

Ecology & Debate

The Ecology Club, which had almost disappeared from the WHS scene in the past few years, was revived and revamped by the inexhaustible Mr. Charles Hardy. The club's projects this year included a paper recycling campaign and a tree planting during Rebel Pride week. The Ecology Club also participated in the audubon "Solar Derby", presenting an exhibit on Nuclear Energy as well as serving refreshments.

The Debate Team had a successful and satisfying year, according to Advisor, Mr. Toby Hubbard. The team, which consisted entirely of novices, did very well, competing in five of eight scheduled matches. Problems with the "Work to Rule" strike and cancellations resulted in an incomplete season. This year's topic was to resolve whether or not an international organization should handle allocation and development of scarce world resources.

Cheering And Twirling

This year, the cheerleaders yelled at ten football, eighteen basketball and eighteen hockey games. They wore new red, white and blue uniforms in the new school colors. The twelve girls received Varsity letters at the annual banquet from Coach Kay Gable.

Though they practiced diligently, the squad finished 7th in the Bay State League Cheering and Baton Competition held at Braintree High School. Next year, the present cheerleaders will automatically be on the squad if they wish. However, with the resignation of Coach Gable, the policy may change yet again.

The Baton Squad performed with the band at all the football games, too. They participated in numerous other competitions throughout the year.

The so-called experts had picked this year's Walpole Rebel Team for no better than fourth place, but when the season was over, the so-called experts were proven wrong. Coach Lee's Rebels surprised everyone but themselves by winning their fourth Bay State League title and compiling a best-ever record of 9-0-1.

Walpole's plan of attack changed from a passing attack to a ground attack, with senior guard Frank Brunetta taking a spot on the B.S.L. All-Star team for his fine work. The running attack centered on Terry Jones, who also was selected as an All-Star, as the workhorse halfback. Another big contributor to the successful team was Rich Harwood who successfully filled the shoes of his predecessors, and ran the show admirably.

The 1975 Rebels also fielded the finest defense in the league A tribute to the defense was the fact that 3 of its members were selected to the BSL All-Star team: lineman Rob Cuomo and senior co-captain Gary Whittemore, with defensive back Coley Nee, who was also selected to the Boston Globe's All-Scholastic Defensive team in his junior year.

From the first summer camp practice to the final gun of the muddy Thanksgiving Day game, the Rebels worked hard to achieve their goal of a league title and disprove the experts who had underestimated them in September.

Soccer Team Ends on Hot Streak

Despite a slow start, the soccer team finished strong, finishing with an 8-7-3 season record.

Led by seniors Bruce Brennan and Bob Salomaa, the Rebels proved their strength by knocking off teams which were ultimately entered in the State Tournament such as Wellesley.

Other accomplishments of the 1975 soccer campaign were the scoring act of the Brennan brothers (Bruce and Andy) and the naming of Bruce Brennan to the Bay State League All-Star team.

Next year's team, led by a cast of returning lettermen, has all the earmarks of a championship.

Walpole Porkers Bay State Co-Champs

A terrific season all around for the Walpole Field Hockey team ended with the Varsity Porkers tied with Wellesley for the Bay State championship. Coach Susan Brainard sums up the season, "The 1975 team may have been the strongest team Walpole's ever put on the field."

The season began after the full varsity team had trained at Mearsted Camp for a week; practices and scrimmages helped to ready the girls for the tough-looking competition this year.

One of the highlight games was played at Dedham. Preceding the game, the Porkers were informed that if this contest was won, they would be tied for first place with Wellesley. It was a game played by pros. Walpole came out champs, by a 2-0 shutout over the Dedham team.

At the season's opening Coach Brainard stated the possibility of a championship if the team produced a 100% effort. It looks like the girls gave their all.

Harriers Run Against Tough Competition

The 1975 Cross Country Team ran against tough competition all through the fall, and considering a rather small squad, managed to defeat tough contenders of Braintree and Dedham. Despite a 2-7 record, Coach Bill Casbarra's harriers ran with mostly underclassmen, who not only gained experience, but vastly improved as the season progressed.

Bill Ahern, Joe Boudreau and Ron Izzo played major roles as the teams top competitors.

Captain Tim McCaffrey, Dan Damish and Brian Thomas also made great contributions as seniors.

Third Place For Girls in BSL

After a third place Bay State League finish, the girls' basketball team marched confidently into the single elimination State Tournament. In the first round, the Rebel girls ran their New Bedford opponents off the court with a decisive victory. A stubborn and unbeaten Marshfield team followed for second-round competition; however, they proved to be too strong, and the Walpole girls were eliminated.

Six of the ten team members, who were seniors, proved to be the reason for the team's success. Whenever called upon, June McLaughlin, Donna Doherty, co-captain Cathy Groark, co-captain Marianne Collins, Terri McDavitt and Kim Jackson provided the vital spark.

Special recognition should be given to co-captain Marianne Collins who was chosen for the Bay State League All-Star team and for the Patriot Ledger All-Scholastic team. Her play, both last year and this, proved her to be one of the finest guards ever to come out of Walpole High School.

Sickness Sweeps Basketball Team

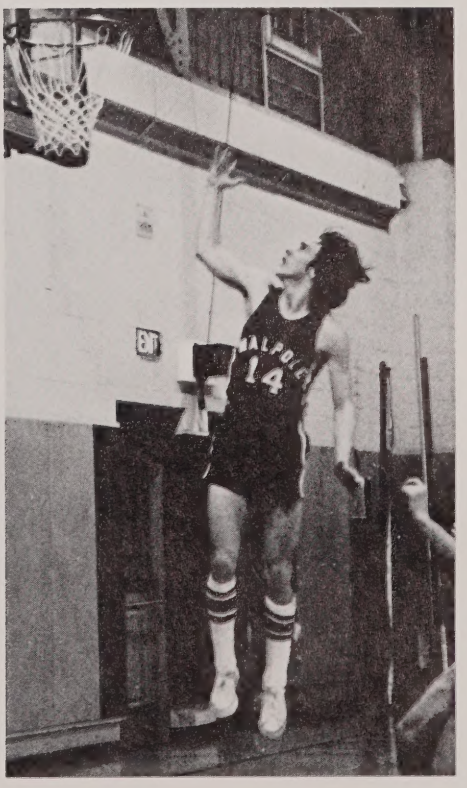
Pete hauls down a rebound between two Red Raiders.

Beset by illness and multiple injuries, the 1975-'76 Rebel Basketball Team struggled to a disappointing 5-13.

Despite their losing record, the Rebel hoopsters provided local fans with many exciting moments. The local quintet topped North in a heart-stopping triple overtime victory on the Spartans home court. The Rebels also upset powerful Braintree, the eventual league co-champs.

The season was topped off with Pete Belletti being named to BSL All-star team and Rob Smith and Andy Tryon being voted captains for the 1976-'77 season.

Bruce nets an easy two points.



Gymnastic Team Breaks Three Records

The gymnastic team, coached by Terry Balduf, and led by capt. Carol Songin, had a very successful season this year surpassing all previous scores by reaching scores of 58.05, 60.35, 69.90.

Although they won only two meets against Milton and Needham they lost three out of the remaining eight meets by less than five points.

Leaving the team will be seniors; Karen Crown, capt. Carol Songin, Pam Swift, Pat Swift.

New System for Icemen

Coach Bob Toran took the reins on the first of December (the first day of practice) and, assisted by John Cullen, led the icemen through a season of severe ups and downs. Learning the new coach's system was rough, as shown by the large turnover of players, and by the time the season ended on February 14 only three of eight seniors who started the season were still playing and the team finished with a 5-11-2 record.

The Winter Track Team improved immensely over last year's 0-8-1 record by compiling a 2-7 record. The two teams to succumb to Walpole were Framingham North and Wellesley.

Two new school records were set: initial school record in the mile relay team of Bill Ahearn, Joe Boudreau, Bob Noren, and Ron Izzo. Also, Bob Cuomo set a new school record in the shot put with a throw of 47 ft. 4 1/2 in.

The Rebel Wrestling Team suffered through a 1-9 season this year. The Rebels forfeited eighteen points every match due to the lack of a 100, 107, and 187 pound wrestler. However, the team size was large and the J.V.'s enjoyed a record of 8-2. The top priority for next year will be the search for two small wrestlers.

The tournament season, however, was a great success for the Rebels. In the Southern Mass. District tournament, Walpole placed 6th out of 18 teams competing, even though only nine wrestlers participated. In that tournament the place winners were Earl Peters, 6th (121), Dave Powers, 5th (134), Tim McCaffrey, 5th (147), and John Maenhout, 6th (167). Special recognition is due to Co-Captains Steve Tryon 128 lb. champ and Scott Farnell the Heavy Weight District Champion.

The next week in the State Tournament, Tryon and Farnell again distinguished themselves. Steve was a semi-finalist while Scott gained the finals thus going to a 2nd place finish in the Mass. State Wrestling Tournament.

REBEL 9 HAS .500 SEASON

Bad breaks seemed to plague the Rebel nine the second half of the season, costing the Rebels a tournament bid.

After defeating league rival Norwood in extra innings and then beating powerhouse Braintree in a come-from-behind effort, the Rebels felt confident that they could demolish all forthcoming contenders. But, it was not to be.

The Rebels found themselves victims of a four game losing streak and were ultimately out of post-season play.

Although not making the tournament, a 9-9 finish made for a very impressive season.

Capt. Bob Solomaa, Walpole's sole representative at the All-Star game, helped shut out Braintree, the league's Co-champion. Bob, who was originally scheduled to play third base, ended up in left field, a position he had never played before.

This year's entire pitching staff will be returning next year. And if Coach White can find some clutch hitters, 1977 could be the year for Walpole baseball.

The Spring Track team suffered through a disappointing 0-9 season. Due to poor training facilities, the late arrival of equipment and uniforms, and to the depth of the other teams of the Bay State League, Walpole was once again unable to compete on an equal basis. Only in the last meet of the season, against Framingham North, were the Rebels able to have any hope of attaining a win. However, a heartbreaking 76-69 loss was the outcome.

On the more hopeful side, there were some outstanding individual performances. Among these were:

Bob Cuomo — 49' 11 3/4" Shot Put Kevin Fay — 39' 8 1/2" Triple Jump
Ron Izzo — 53.1 440 yd. Run
Terry Jones — 20' 3 3/4" Long Jump
Paul Larson — 43.4 School record in 330 Intermediate Hurdles
Eric Young — Sophomore 6'0" High Jump

The 440 Relay team of John Maenhout, Tim Finn, Ron Izzo, and Terry Jones broke the school record in that event with a time of 46.6. Finally, there was the steady improvement of John Maenhout, Kevin McDonough, Rich Carlson, Jerry McCarthy, Matt Connolly, and Joe Boudreau. Both Matt and Joe also qualified for the conference and state meets held in late May.

GOLF TEAM PUTTING IT ALL TOGETHER

The 1976 Rebel Golf Team had a rebuilding year, compiling a 5-4 record to finish fifth in the Bay State League. With the return of Frank Clerici, Gil Cole, Andy Demore, and Greg Ronan, the future seems to be in a fair way. Also coming next season are sophomore Sam Fitzpatrick and a host of freshmen that make Coach Lind's eyes sparkle with anticipation.

The State Schoolboy Qualifying Round was held at Putterham Meadows on May 24. All three Walpole golfers made respectable showings. Jim Barker narrowly missed the cut with an 81, while Frank Clerici and Joe Oram shot 83 and 84 respectively.

The Yearly Search for W.H.S.'s Cinderella

Kathy Groark was chosen as Homecoming Queen at the annual Autumn Queen Dance held at Walpole High School on November 7.

The contestants were Patricia Abely, Anne Amirault, Karen Crown, Cathy Groark, and Dianna Shaheen.

Towards the end of the dance, at about 9:45 p.m. Gary Whittemore, president of the Student Council, introduced the five contestants. Mr. Bruno, chairman of the School Committee, announced Cathy Groark the autumn queen and presented her with a bouquet of red roses and a kiss.

Refreshments served were baked by members of the Student Council.

THE FINAL CONTESTANTS: Diane Shaheen, Patty Abely, Karen Crown, Cathy Groark, Sue Stanton, and Anne Amirault.

Crowds were a little thin this year.

Mr. Bruno congratulates the Queen with a kiss.

The 50's Revisited

While socks were hopping and ponytails were swinging, students and teachers rocked around the clock. The popular disc jockee Bud Ballou set the fabulous fifties scene with his slicked back hair and juke box favorites. The dance was held on December 12. For a school of almost 1300, the 150 or so that showed up at the dance was a poor example of school participation. Those that did show up had a rolling good time.

This year the seniors, with the help of Mr. Joseph MacDonald, English teacher, presented "Up the Down Staircase". The play was a great success, drawing capacity crowds on both February 27 and 28.

The play concerned the trials and tribulations of Sylvia Barrett in her first teaching assignment, at Calvin Coolidge High in the 1950's. It was not all seriousness, for her class provided comic relief from her problems, with a little Three Stooges thrown in. Her biggest problem was a sullen and disillusioned Joe Ferone, whom she tried to keep him in school. The play climaxed when Joe asked Sylvia to help him, and Sylvia gained the courage to continue teaching at Calvin Coolidge.

"Gymnaestrada"—Gymnastic Renaissance at Walpole High

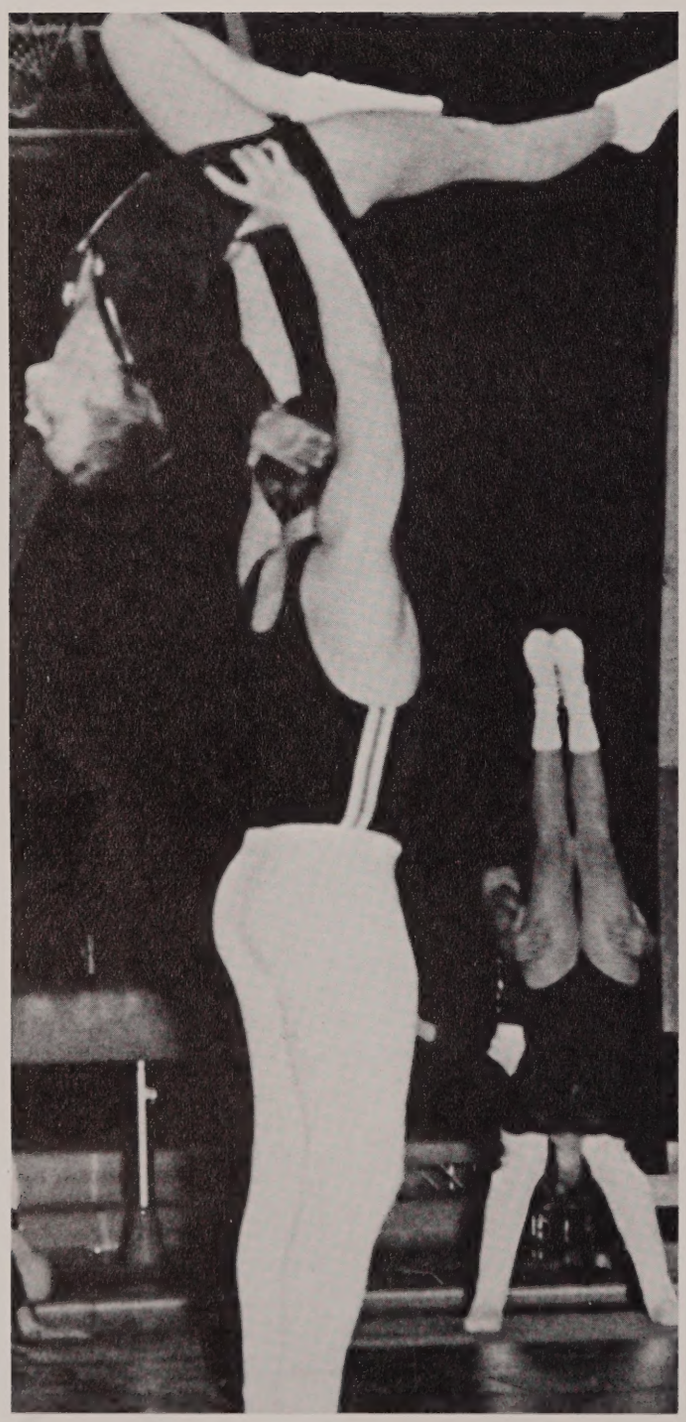
On April 2nd, the WHS Girl's Gymnastic Team presented Gymnaestrada, a gymnastic exhibition at WHS, in a combined effort with 15 boys who volunteered. The girls, who had been practicing since the end of their regular season in February, performed well-executed routines on beam, bars and floor exercises. Despite the fact that the boys had only 6 weeks to practice and make up routines, they proved their accomplishments the night of the show.

The exhibition included events of both boys and girls as well as pyramids of boys and girls teams. A comedy act with Randy Connare and Brian Thomas as clowns had the crowd in stitches. Also well executed was crossfire vaulting which alternated boys and girls doing various vaults over the horse. Tiger Leaping, the vaulting over 7 people on top of the horse, was one of the main highlights in the show.

The girls' team performed a 50's dance to "Rock-Around-the-Clock", and Gary Whittemore, Kurt Riess, and Mark Allen took on the triple balance act performing each difficult balance, including the most strenuous "harper", with great strength and execution.

The final event of Gymnaestrada exhibition was the tableaux. This event was probably the most spectacular way to end the evening. With the gym totally dark, 10 men in silver came out on the floor eight times in a creative expression of living statuaries.

The last of all was called "Spirit of Prayer" which represented man finding peace within himself and peace in the world. During this, the "Lord's Prayer" was sung by Mr. Schnorbus.



"Pyramids"—Gary balances Michele as center attraction.

Carter, Ford

On May 4, the social studies classes of Walpole High School convened to elect Democratic and Republican hopefuls for presidency. The project, which began in July of 1975, came to a climax as President Gerald Ford (Mike Dumphy) was elected as the Republican hopeful and Jimmy Carter (John Rockwood) was given the nod at the Democratic end.

Among the less successful candidates were Ronald Reagan (Gary Whittimore), Hubert Humphrey (Dave Leeco), George Wallace (Kissel), and Scoop Jackson (Bob Powers). Jackson eventually ran as Jimmy Carter's running mate, while Elliot Richardson (Kevin Moore) ran as vice-president to Gerald Ford.

Charlie Rozanski, Republican chairperson and student coordinator, said of the elections, "It was a success insofar as we accomplished everything we hoped to." He added that without the help of faculty members Mr. Coviello, Mr. Morris, Activities Director Mr. Turco, and the social studies teachers, all of whom donated their time and efforts freely, the elections would not have been as big a success.

The key note speakers present at the convention were State Representative Alan Danovitch and State Senator Joseph Timilty. The presence of the two politicians added to the exciting and informative morning at Walpole High.

Prom Theme: I Only Have Eyes for You . . .

The junior Prom was held on April 21 at the King Phillip Ballroom in Wrentham. About 90 couples showed up in their prom finery to enjoy a roast beef dinner and dancing to the Gene Federico Band. Moonlit gardens surrounded the ballroom for a relaxing stroll after dinner.

Suzanne Crowley, escorted by Paul Roidoulis, was chosen Walpole Prom Queen for 1976. Debbie McSweeney, escorted by Chris Glynn, and Donna Doherty, escorted by Mike Connolly, were members of her court along with Janice Connolly, escorted by Chris Collins, and Linda Plaut with her escort.

Graduation

Sunday, June 6. Ominous clouds hovered over Turco Field. Parents and friends of the 385 graduates turned out in rain gear, undaunted by the forecast. Enthusiasm remained undampened, although the caps and gowns suffered somewhat. Total catastrophe was neatly avoided by slick handling of the diploma handing. A few moist eyes were spotted in the crowd as the Class of '76 headed for some very wet celebrations.
